Kia ora whanau,

Happy end of Week Four everyone!! Not long in the year left now, just over a month in fact.

Well done to our junior students who just completed their assessment week. Once catch-ups have been done, students will reflect on their progress and we will share these at PSTs.

It's a super important week for our seniors coming up next week. Exams are in full effect and we have many seniors working and studying extremely hard, including staying after-school Tuesdays and Thursdays for extra tuition and support. All the best koutou ma, smash it!!

Just a reminder for all of our community. If you are coming into the school either during the week or even on the weekend, please refrain from parking on the grass and keep our grounds clean. There are plenty of outside bins around. We have a hard working groundsman who keeps our grounds in a beautiful condition and we appreciate everyone helping to keep it that way.

There are loads of little messages throughout this week's newsletter so I'll let you get right to it.

Enjoy the weekend and the outstanding weather!!

Ms Ferris - Director of Operations

HALLOWEEN

One of the Junior Pod choices this term was Event Management, which was run through the Services Pod.

Students chose their management team from catering, decor & venue management, and entertainment. They worked in small groups to organise their own section, and then put it all together to collaborate and make sure it was a cohesive, shared event.

Throughout the process, students learnt skills around budgeting and using an Excel document. They spent time shopping & hunting for bargains (watching how much money they spent), designed invitations using graphic design software, learnt skills to compromise and adapt, developed contingency plans, thought carefully about their client and their needs, also the health and safety components of planning an event, and lastly, time management.

At the end of the day each student involved did an amazing job of helping each other out and working with their young clients.

A special thank you to the fabulous students from Kaeo School and Totara North ECE. Very enthusiastic and well mannered tamariki. Thanks also to Colleen Sherwin and Hilary Molesworth for bringing your students to our event.

NCEA EXAMS

07 November - 02 December

The NCEA External examinations have begun. This is a reminder for all students to stay away from the exam room area and keep the noise level down at all times. Senior students sitting the exams are also reminded to be prepared and become familiar with the rules and regulations during the exams.
